I grew up in York, Pennsylvania, after Red Lion Area Senior High School, I began attending The Pennsylvania School of Culinary Arts in Lancaster, Pennsylvania where I currently reside. I graduated Culinary school in 2015, with an associate's degree in specialized business and a Chef de Culinaire title. I immediately began managing kitchens, while still practicing my art hobbies on the side, until after so long, my modeling was becoming bigger than my cooking. About 2 years ago, after losing my mother to mesothelioma lung cancer, I started modeling heavily, feeling that I didn't want to miss my small window of opportunity. I created a few media pages and have been modeling full time ever since. Over the past year, I have been published 4 times, gracing the cover of Model Throw-down; I have competed as a model in a L'oreal hair competition, as well as been a model in a PPA competition where the images I was featured in were awarded second place.

I have worked as a free lance model travelling the east coast from New York City to Tallahassee, Florida, and even San Juan, Puerto Rico. Currently, I regular Scott Church Studios in Lebanon, Pennsylvania, where we run community events as well as model and photographer shoot outs and a mentorship program taught by Scott Church for photographers. You can usually find me there spending time with the studio cats and tending our budding rooftop garden, or visiting my father and husky in York!

Hi I'm Angel Luv and am 28 years old, I'm a cheeky half Brazilian scouser from Liverpool thanks Tomy mums side of the family I am blessed with Brazilian assets, modelling has always been up and down through out my life like most models have all been ripped off at some point in our lives, this happened a couple of times when I was about 18, this put me off a little bit but the modelling dream never left me, I then out of the blue got selected for miss Liverpool at the age of 20, I didn't win this, but it didn't kill my hope too much, While doing a couple of shoots here and there I started my career as mental health nurse, this is a huge achievement of mine as helping people is something that is in my nature. I then lost track of modelling which I regret dearly as I do think I will of been where I wanted to be now, all my life

I've been told I should be a model and it was only about 6 months ago I realised it's what I want to do and I'm going to make sure that I pursue this dream, I have never lost confidence I just lost my way a bit as soon as I realised I wanted to get back into it the past 6 months I've had loads of offers, photographers wanting to work with me, modelling agencies wanting me to work with them, the energy has been amazing. At 28 some may say it's too late, I believe I am just getting started and I have never felt so much of a woman in my life, I'm feeling sexy and confident in everything I do. My aim is to be on famous lingerie/underwear websites/billboards, I believe no dream is too big then I can pursue to be the woman girls look up to and be an amazing role model. As I am very spiritual, I do also have my own business with my little sister making jewellery from healing crystals which is very succesful, I'm also pescatarian (only eat fish)/vegetarian, I'm an animal and earth lover, a modern day glamorous hippie I always call my self! I Love looking after myself and working out at the gym as you can see. I'm single and have been for nearly four years this is more by choice as I have'nt met anyone worth changing that for I do love being single I have a wild side and I have a 'I do what I want' kind of attitude. I'm always travelling and making sure I get in a bikini few times through out the year, I love the sun and selfies in the sun! if you checkout my instagram you will know what I mean, give my page a follow @stephy.xnx and please give credit to my amazing makeup artist Chelsea Style follow her on @makeup_chelsea_
