I'm a proud Canadian babe who has always wanted to become a model since I was young. I am currently an amateur model who is building her experience and portfolio. I am working towards a career in exotic dance and professional modelling where I can share my talents with the world. I've always dreamt of being published and this would literally be a dream come true for me. In the future, I will continue to partake in shoots and would love to share my photos with this magazine. I love photography and getting to show off my body more than anything in the world. It's been challenging sometimes to feel confident with my body but I have learned to love myself and show off my assets with confidence.

I come from a very small town. Just a southern small town girl seeking out her dream. I have two children whom I love very much and want to make something of myself for them. I haven't traveled much never seen the world. But I have big dreams that one day I might. I am a survivor of domestic violence. And transformed myself into a strong warrior goddess. I achieve to become a published model and also follow my heart into getting my degree in drug and alcohol counseling and helping others find the light out of the darkness. I hope you find it in your heart to accept my application

My name is Jessica Stoner, I'm 24 years old and live in my hometown called Payson, Az. I'm a mommy to a beautiful baby boy and wanna be able to give him the best future. I am a very outgoing bubbly human, I'm caring, sweet, and funny but I try not to give myself to much credit. I always put others before myself and will continue to do so well till I die. I would have to say my goals and achievements would be to just grow as a person and learn new experiences, open new doors for me and my son In the future. I want to keep striving and working hard for the things I get and or will receive. For challenges and successes I would have to say being a single mom is rough, my challenge everyday is to get up and provide for my sons needs and mine. It's also so successful in the end because at the end of the day, week, and year I know I worked so hard for that kid to look up to me as a hero or influencer in his life. I wanna make a change for me and my son for the better. I was discovered by Michael Kostopoulos on Facebook and he gave me the most amazing opportunity I couldn't of asked for. I'm now a model for his company Babygirlfashions where I will have my own line of swim wear and lingerie and maybe even more if I'm lucky :). I think Michael could be the one to help me open new doors and give me experiences I never thought I would have. He's been more then amazing and I could never repay him for all his hard work and dedication he's put into me. For that I will always look up to Michael.

I started modeling about 6 years ago at the age of 40 to help boost my self-esteem. Not only did I do this to help myself, but to help other women empower their beauty no matter our age or what we have been through in life. I enjoy going out and exploring nature, taking hikes, camping with friends and family, fishing, horseback riding, 4 wheeling and road trips. I love going on rides looking at nature taking photographs of all different kinds of things, such as new and old architecture, abandoned places (urban exploring), historical sites, and nature.

While I enjoy all types of modeling, I really love to model with cars or motorcycles, modeling in nature, or anything creative. One of the fun parts of modeling to me is getting published in magazines. It is one of my goals to get published as much as possible in magazines or calendars with inked and automotive themes. To me, tattoos and piercings are sexy in which I have several of both.

My biggest enjoyment in life however, are my two children and my two grandchildren. They are my life..

I am Miss Thalia. Yes I know that is an uncommon name but I actually love how unique it is. I am like Summer Time a self described Florida Mermaid that loves the beach life. Yes, I'm a mermaid! I actually work as a Mermaid for some promotional events. It's like living a childhood dream! I grew up in South Jersey and spent most of my free time enjoying the beaches and coves. All of my life I dreamed of living on or near the beach. In 2004 I moved to South West Florida where I live today. I instantly fell in love with the atmosphere living on the Gulf which is my Paradise. It has been a dream come true. Since 2012 I have been a Liquor Promotional Model. I began modeling in 2013 for different photo shoots with different photographers. Since 2017 I joined The International Bikini Model Search. Since 2018 I have been Miss Scuderia Cazzani Superboat Spokesmodel for our OPA Racing Team. This year in 2020 I became a Brand Model for a Mermaid Clothing Company called The Filthy Mermaid. Currently I am a Reality TV Personality "Summer" looking forward to being a Cast Member on The International Bikini Model Search Reality Show because I think that there will be a lot of young women that I can inspire. I'm only 4'9 and not a typical model by any means but I'm living my dream and I only see opportunities not limitations! As often as I can I'm always beaching it or boating. I love dancing and listening to EDM, Pop and Hip Hop music. I love going to Bars and Clubs. I enjoy Roller Skating and Bowling. I love watching Movies and TV Shows. I have my mind set on achieving to become a Campaign : Commercial Print : LifeStyle : Swimsuit : Calendar : Catalog Model. I would be honored with Publications for different surf companies and swimwear collections. Even though its something that isn't always the easiest thing to succeed in. I actually accept the struggle that comes with accomplishing my goals. I am determined to get to where I want to be. Everyone in life faces different forms of challenges throughout their life. You can either run from them or face them head on. I try to face any challenge in my life with the support that my family gives me knowing that they will always be there for me. I would especially like to thank them for always helping to push me to succeed in all aspects of my life.
